Confirmation of Wilson Completes New President's Cabinet

APPOINTMENT OF AIDES MAY BE OPPOSED

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated Roger M. Kyes of Michigan to be deputy secretary of defense.

He would be top aide to Charles E. Wilson, confirmed yesterday as secretary of defense by a 77 to 6 vote.

Kyes, like Wilson a former General Motors Corp. official, has agreed to sell about 3,000 shares of the auto firm's stock he holds and to dispose of some shareholdings in other concerns.

Wilson tapped Kyes and three other business men to be his chief subordinates but Eisenhower sent the Senate only the nomination of Kyes.

The President's action in delaying the nominations of the three others apparently indicated that the status of at least two remains in doubt.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, Republican leader, said he understood that "talks are going on" with Harold Talbott, picked by Wilson for air secretary, and Robert Stevens, chosen for Army secretary.

Both have testified it would be difficult for them to sell their industrial holdings as Wilson agreed to do before he won Senate confirmation yesterday.

Wilson's confirmation came after 10 days of controversy and with approval by 47 of the Senate's 48 Republicans and 30 of its 45 Democrats.

Voting against confirmation were Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) and five Democrats—Johnston of South Carolina, Kilgore and Neely of West Virginia, Lehman of New York and Willis Smith of North Carolina.

But many of those who voted for this confirmation had made plain they would not have if Wilson had not agreed to sell his GM stocks.

Stevens and Talbott have said they can't afford to sell some financial holdings. The prevailing Senate opinion seemed to be that they will sell or they won't be confirmed.

Eisenhower may move slowly in giving them formal nominations which the Senate Armed Services Committee has ruled must be forthcoming before they can be summoned to testify again. They appeared with Wilson at closed hearings Jan. 15 and 16.

The understanding of armed services committee members was that the names of Wilson's proposed assistants will be sent to the Senate one at a time, with that of Roger M. Kyes, chosen deputy secretary, to be submitted first.

Second on the list may be Robert B. Anderson, designated for secretary of the Navy. He has testified he does not have any industrial holdings. Kyes said he would sell about 3,000 shares of General Motors stock. He thus is regarded as likely to get speedy Senate approval along with Anderson.

No Basic Foreign Policy To Be Outlined in State of the Union Message Next Monday

Washington (AP)—Congressional leaders said today President Eisenhower intends to lay down the basic pattern of his foreign policy in his first State of the Union message next Monday.

Although the Republican Capitol Hill command was said to have been admonished by Eisenhower not to talk about their conferences with him yesterday lest the meetings end abruptly, some reports on his intentions leaked out.

They indicated the President would emphasize foreign affairs—especially co-ordination of U. S. efforts in various areas. There were reports on what if anything, the President planned to say on domestic matters.

Lawmakers said they expect him to delay until after additional conferences with Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge any specific recommendations for cutting former President Truman's $78,600,000,000 budget.

The President was said to have asked for continuance of the governmental reorganization power which expires soon.

Eisenhower was understood to have been urged by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), the majority leader, to end price-wage controls, as he could do by executive order.

Taft brought up proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley Law, which he introduced in the Senate yesterday, and apparently got approval for this action.

Tipsy Driving Charge Follows Two-Car Crash

State police yesterday afternoon arrested Vancy Sharp, of Torpedo R. D. 1, and charged him with drunken driving, following a two-car accident on Route 6, about five miles west of Warren.

Sharp, arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace Fred Berry, of Starbrick, entered a plea of guilty and was released to appear in county court under bail of $500.

Police said that Sharp ran into the rear of another motor vehicle operated by George Beach, 7 Glenwood street, when both automobiles were headed east and Beach slowed down.

Both drivers were bruised but not hospitalized. Damage to Sharp's car was estimated at $250, and to Beach's car about $100.

POPE IMPROVES AFTER ATTACK OF INFLUENZA

Vatican City, (AP)—Pope Pius XII was reported "much improved" today from the attack of influenza and bronchial pneumonia which has kept him in bed since last Thursday.

The 76-year-old Pontiff's temperature "has gone down to normal," his doctor reported. There was no indication when he would be able to leave his apartment or resume his duties.

Stork Busier Than Grim Reaper in The County During 1952 Tabulation Reveals

There were 39 more births than deaths in Warren county during 1952, it was revealed today when The Times-Mirror received individual tabulations from four registrars in the outlying districts of the county and from Mrs. Ann McGary of the Warren Borough Health office, registrar for Warren and Clarendon boroughs and for the nine townships of Elk, Cone-wango, Glade, Kinzua, Corydon, Pine Grove, Pleasant, Watson and Mead.

The tally reveals 788 births and 749 deaths, with 763 of the babies having been born in the Maternity Department of Warren General Hospital. Of these, 328 were born to residents of the borough and 435 were born to non-residents. But four babies were born at home, and these were outside the borough in the other sections included in Mrs. McGary's coverage.

There were 139 deaths in Warren borough of residents thereof, 83 deaths of non-residents. In the other sections on the registrar's list there were 394 deaths, including the State Hospital report.

The Canberra, world's first twin-engine bomber, made the first double crossing of the Atlantic in a single day last August.

REMINGTON IS CONVICTED AS A PERJURER

New York (AP) — William W. Remington, 35, former government economist, was convicted today of perjury in denying he ever gave secret government data to Elizabeth Bentley for relay to Russia.

He also was convicted on a second perjury count for falsely denying knowledge of the existence of a unit of the Young Communist League at Dartmouth College when he was a student there in the 1930s.

Remington was shaky on his feet after the verdict. Before it was announced, he sat pale and nervous at the defense counsel table, fidgeting and aimlessly picking at the leaves of a pocket dictionary.

He could be sentenced up to 10 years in prison and $4,000 in fines on the two counts. This would be twice the penalty he drew on a previous conviction—which he got reversed on appeal.

The Federal Court jury's verdict—announced at 3:30 a. m.—left further charges hanging over his head.

The jury acquitted the handsome one-time $10,000-a-year Department of Commerce employee on one count of a five-count indictment. This charged him with falsely denying he ever recruited any one into the Communist party.

On two other counts the jury of 11 men and one woman reported it was unable to agree. These involved his denials that he ever attended Communist party meetings at Nashville, Tenn., when he was employed by the Tennessee Valley Authority, or that he ever paid Communist party dues.

Miss Bentley, admitted former courier for a Soviet spy ring, was a prosecution witness against Remington at both trials. She said he gave her War Production Board information.

URGENT NEED FOR DONOR INCREASE

Mrs. Herbert Maasz, in charge of the Red Cross Blood Program for the Youngsville area, reports donors signed up for tomorrow's visit of the mobile unit are still short of the number needed to meet the increased quota. The unit will be at the Methodist church from 11:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. and those unable to call in advance will be welcomed as "drop-ins". Industries cooperating in the visit are the National Forge, the Irwin Manufacturing Company and the Star Manufacturing Company.

Court Is Divided On Rubinstein Decision

Washington (AP)—Serge Rubinstein, rich Russian-born financier, is safe from being seized and taken to Ellis Island at least until Feb. 27.

The U. S. Court of Appeals, dividing 2-1, late yesterday ordered that no steps be taken toward seizing Rubinstein pending further arguments in his case.

This was the fourth time in four weeks the court had intervened to prevent Rubinstein from being taken into custody on a deportation warrant growing out of his World War II conviction of draft dodging.

Afterward, members of Zonta Club served coffee and cookies and all joined in informal discussion of the plans.

Comprising the personnel of the various groups conducting the canvass in Warren borough will be the following:

Four Die in Crash Near Runway of the State College Field

State College (AP)—A small private plane, running out of gas and trying for an emergency landing, nose dived to the ground close to an airport runway taking four persons to their death.

The plane, a four-passenger Beechcraft Bonanza, was carrying three Midwestern food company executives and a 40-year-old Indiana woman to the National Potato Chip Convention in New York City.

The plane was demolished. The woman, Miss Irene L. Gardner, a hotel room clerk in South Bend, was thrown free of the wreckage but the men were trapped in the cabin.

Ten minutes before the crash yesterday at the State College Airport, a mile west of this Central Pennsylvania college community, the pilot radioed a distress signal heard at the Black Moshannon State Airport in nearby Phillipsburg.

The CAA radio tower there told authorities the pilot said he was looking for Selinsgrove, Pa., was lost, and had gas left for only 10 minutes in the air.

Proposed Changes in Taft-Hartley Law Winning Support

Washington (AP)—An influential senator said today a series of changes proposed by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) in the Taft-Hartley labor law have a good chance of being accepted by unions and industry.

Taft told newsmen some of his suggestions may win support of both labor and management.

And Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) of the Senate Labor Committee told a reporter that all of Taft's proposed amendments to the T-H law seemed to fall into an area in which both unions and industry can agree.

Taft, GOP majority leader and principal author of the labor law bearing his name, dropped five bills into the Senate hopper yesterday proposing about 16 different changes in the present law.

Some Crawford County Dairymen Hard Hit by Pittsburgh's New Milk Regulations

Pittsburgh (AP)—A city ordinance goes into effect Feb. 2 requiring all dairy farmers who sell milk in Pittsburgh to take part in a Bang's Disease control program.

Hardest hit by the new law will be some milk producers in Crawford County. They long have fought an area-testing plan under which the state provides free testing for the disease if 90 per cent of the dairymen in a given county agree to the program.

City Health Engineer Herbert Dunsmore said yesterday: "If they (Crawford County farmers) want to sell milk in Pittsburgh they'll have to get their herds tested. We're not interested in any personal fights they may have with the state."

A group of Crawford County dairymen sued the state two years ago to stop the testing.

Between 60 and 75 persons gathered in the second-floor meeting room of the YMCA last night to hear the final details of plans for the windup of the 1953 March of Dimes in Warren county; the Mothers March on Polio.

Scheduled to get under way at 7:00 p. m., the house to house canvass will be conducted for one hour throughout Warren borough and in a number of rural communities, "contact" mothers calling wherever they find a porchlight burning.

Mary Topper, president of the sponsoring group, Warren Zonta Club, and chairman of the 1953 March of Dimes, opened the meeting with a cordial welcome to the workers and presentation of the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, rector of Trinity Memorial church, who offered prayer for guidance and success in the coming project.

Miss Topper then introduced John Wendell, chairman of the Warren County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, who spoke on the increasing need for funds, "the work of the local chapter, the great strides that have been made in the research program, and the reminder that a great deal more must be done before an answer is found to the polio problem."

His informal address, was concluded with the remark that "while the March of Dimes workers collect the funds, it is the Warren County Chapter which expends them". With that final word, he introduced to the group Andrew Nelson, treasurer of the chapter.

Next on the schedule, workers were given a complete picture of the polio program by way of a film, "In Daily Battle", with Dan K. Walton operating the projector. This excellent movie brought home the pathetic story of a victim of poliomyelitis, the various steps taken in treatment, and, finally, the triumphant return home from the hospital.

Mildred Bendix, borough chairman of the Mothers March on Polio, and Lenore Thurston, chairman for the rural sections, addressed the group briefly and the session was concluded with final instructions and distribution of canvass materials.

Afterward, members of Zonta Club served coffee and cookies and all joined in informal discussion of the plans.

Comprising the personnel of the various groups conducting the canvass in Warren borough will be the following:

Pre-school Guidance Group—Captain: Mrs. Richard Gilson; Lts.: Mrs. William MacBride, Mrs. W. W. Horn, Mrs. J. V. #### Two Priests and a Laymen Sentenced to Die by Polish Court

London (AP)—A Communist court in Poland today sentenced two Roman Catholic priests and a layman to death on charges of spying for the Vatican and the United States.

Warsaw radio said three other priests got prison sentences ranging from eight years to life.

A woman described as a member of the Catholic Rosary Association of Girls was sentenced to six years.

Sentenced to die were the Rev. Jozef Leito, the Rev. Michael Kowalik and Edward Chachlica, a layman.

The Rev. Franciszek Szymony was ordered imprisoned for life. Other defendants were sentenced as follows: The Rev. Wit Brayek, 15 years; the Rev. Jan Pochopen, eight years—three less than the prosecution had demanded; Stefania Rospond, six years—two years off the sentence demanded.

FINE'S BUDGET DELIVERED TO LAWMAKERS CALLS FOR OUTLAY OF $1,428,777,543.00

Harrisburg (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine today looked to the 1953 Legislature to raise $157,202,000 in new taxes to balance the Commonwealth's record-high budget for the next two years.

Fine's budget, delivered to the lawmakers last night, called for spending $1,428,777,543 in the two-year period starting next June.

The governor said the budget estimates were "fair and minimum." But at the same time he asked both the Legislature and the general public to spot any place it could be cut. He said he had trimmed $66,000,000 from budget requests made by department heads.

Fine carefully avoided any mention of specific taxes to raise the $157,000,000 he said is needed. Instead, he promised his cooperation with the lawmakers "to mold the fairest possible tax program."

Fine said a special tax study committee will make a report soon on its findings. The group, named by the governor last year to survey the commonwealth's fiscal problems, is not expected, however, to suggest specific taxes.

On the basis of the committee's preliminary findings, Fine added, more efficient tax collections will bring in $1,600,000 additional revenue.

In addition, the Chesterman committee's recommendations already provide for even millions in savings. This is another group set up by Fine to look into possible governmental economies.

Fine disclosed the Commonwealth will end the current biennium with a surplus of $9,827,000. The figure means that much less of a tax burden in the next two-year fiscal period.

Fine said all present taxes will have to be re-enacted if the figure of 157 millions in new tax needs is to stand. If some are not, new taxes will have to be levied to the amount of that deficiency.

Of the $1,428,777,543 budget, the bulk is for general operating expenses. The remainder is primarily for operation of the state highway system, a separate fund. This fund contemplated $442,329,058 in expenses.

The general operating fund of $1,008,899,386 is the first to hit the billion dollar mark in Commonwealth history.

That figure compares with $948,877,700 appropriated for the current biennium by the 1951 Legislature.

Once again, the biggest slice of the budget dollar is for public education. The figure for this is $506,535,000. Highways is next with $442,329,058.

Public health, assistance and welfare follows with a total of $281,554,000.

The state debt, highest ever, stands at $469,277,401 without counting $15 millions in obligations assumed by the General State Authority and the Highway and Bridge Authority.

If the authority obligations, for which the commonwealth is in the long run responsible, and the Pennsylvania Turnpike debt which is paid off by tolls, are added to the state debt, the public debt reaches the figure of more than $500 millions.

Fine cited a $100,000,000 increase in appropriations over the current biennium, most of which is required under laws passed by previous legislatures.

This includes $81,000,000 for public school subsidies, seven millions for General State Authority rentals, three millions for the State Employees Retirement Fund, three millions for school health examinations, $800,000 for nurses' training and $442,000 for judges' salaries.

Chief Executive Is Still Bothered With Case of "Sniffles"

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower issued his first executive order today. It gives official status to a three-man committee studying ways to streamlining the executive branch of the government.

The committee was instructed to find ways "to promote economy and efficiency" in the executive agencies.

Still bothered by a slight cold, Eisenhower stayed in his room at the White House, but aides said he was up early working on his State of the Union message, to be delivered to Congress Monday.

Eisenhower's press chief, James C. Hagerty, said the President's cold—he called it "the sniffles"—condition definitely was improved developed yesterday and that his today.

But, Hagerty said, Eisenhower decided to confine himself to his living quarters as a precautionary measure. His study, at which he worked today, adjoins his bedroom.

The committee studying methods of streamlining the executive branch has been in existence unofficially since Nov. 30. Today's order puts it on an official basis and instructs it to report back to the President within a year.

Yesterday Eisenhower created a strategy board to plan psychological maneuvers in the cold war.

Truman Not Making Speaking Engagements

Kansas City (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman plans to turn down all public speaking invitations for the next several months to avoid raising any unnecessary political strife.

He said yesterday he wants to carry out his promise to cooperate insofar as possible with President Eisenhower.

Truman told a reporter he first wants an opportunity to observe the actions of the new administration.

British Bomber Is Trying for New Record Flight to Australia

London (AP)—Britain's record-breaking twin-jet Canberra bomber flashed into the skies early today in an attempt to fly from England to Australia in less than 24 hours.

The sleek blue bomber will try to cover the 8,608 miles to Darwin with only three refueling stops—at Fayid in the Suez Canal zone; Karachi, Pakistan; and Singapore.

The plane left London at 8:36 a. m. and landed at Fayid at 1:05 p. m. both Greenwich Mean Time, five hours ahead of EST. It carried a pilot and a navigator.

The present London-to-Darwin record was set in August, 1946, by Royal Air Force Lancaster, which made the trip in 45 hours 5 minutes.

The Canberra, world's first twin-engine bomber, made the first double crossing of the Atlantic in a single day last August.

Farm Home Near Lottsville Is Badly Damaged by Flames

Sugar Grove—Fire, thought to be caused by an overheated chimney, caused an estimated $5,000 damage yesterday afternoon to a country home occupied by Ernest Gantz, and located about five miles west of Lottsville on Bailey Hill. The Gantz family was not at home at the time the blaze was discovered by Michael Arden, school bus driver, about 4:45 p. m.

Two trucks and 20 men from the Sugar Grove Volunteer Fire Department, under Assistant Chief Rudy Burkholder, were the first to reach the scene of the fire and immediately by radio called Mayville to ask for help. The Mayville station dispatched the Columbus department which responded with 12 men under Chief Lester Howles, and the Wrightsville department. The Busti department stood by at Sugar Grove, part of the mutual aid setup.

Firemen secured water from a nearby pond to combat the fire, and succeeded in saving part of the structure. The kitchen and dining room on the first floor and bedrooms on the second floor were badly damaged. Fire Chief Scott Stuart, of Sugar Grove, estimated the damage at $3,000 to the home and $2,000 to contents, partly covered by insurance. The home was valued at $5,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Gantz, with their son, Richard, 9, and daughter, Barbara, 3, and Thomas Hodgson, 13, who resides with the family, are at the home of Mr. Gantz's sister in Columbus.

Proposed Changes in Taft-Hartley Law

Most of the proposals Taft had introduced before in Congress, without getting them enacted. Some of his main suggestions:

(1) Increase the members on the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), which administers the labor law, from five to seven; (2) completely separate the functions of NLRB's general counsel from the NLRB itself, and (3) make employers as well as union leaders file non-Communist affidavits before they can avail themselves of the NLRB.

Fine's Budget Delivered To Lawmakers Calls For Outlay of $1,428,777.543

Significantly, Fine did not include in his budget any additional money for teachers' salaries beyond the 12 millions mandated by the 1951 Legislature. Teachers are asking another 12 millions for a $200 cost-of-living increase.

Fine said $39,000,000 more are being asked beyond that required by law, including $15,000,000 for a 10 per cent increase in state salaries, $9,000,000 for education, $12,700,000 for welfare institutions and $2,500,000 for institutions under the Health Department.

His budget, Fine added, does not include $209,000,000 in requests for state construction projects.

Fine said the Legislature will be asked to increase the borrowing capacity of the General State Authority beyond its present limit of 235 millions to meet a portion of the request for new construction.

Fine also disclosed the 1953 Legislature will be asked to pass $12,500,000 in deficiency appropriations, including $3,533,823 for school health examinations, $1,270,000 for nurses' training and medical and surgical hospital, $5,111,086 for the public school retirement fund and other smaller items.

Kiner and Thomas Are Holding Out For More

Pittsburgh (AP)—Ralph Kiner, National League home run king, and Rookie Outfielder Frank Thomas said today they want more money than they have been offered before they'll sign 1953 contracts with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Kiner, who drew a reported $90,000 last year, is slated for a 25 per cent cut, the maximum allowed under baseball rules.

Thomas, who belted 35 home runs for the Pittsburgh-owned New Orleans Club in the Southern Association, says he'll quit baseball unless he gets a hike in salary. He was offered the same pay he got last year, plus a $1,000 bonus if he has another good season.

Gilbert Trask Is Training at Meade

M/Sgt. James L. Dicello of the Warren Army and Air Force Recruiting Station has announced the enlistment of Gilbert E. Trask, 220 High St., Youngsville, Pa., in the U. S. Army for a period of three years.

Trask is being processed at Ft. George G. Meade, Maryland, and will receive his basic training at another Second Army Camp. He then anticipates assignment to a course in automotive maintenance.

Whether Eisenhower ever formally submits the names of Talbott and Stevens appeared to depend on whether they can satisfy senators informally in advance that they ought to be confirmed under the stock disposal rule applied to Wilson.

Stevens has contended he can't sell his large holdings in a family-owned textile firm which has $125,000,000 worth of uniform contracts with the government.

Important Reminder On Social Security For Self Employed

If you are one of the millions of self-employed people who will file their second annual social security tax report this year, you now have insurance protection under social security. Chester R. Norman, manager of the Jamestown, N. Y., social security office announced today.

These are people who made a social security report of their self-employment earnings for 1951, who are filing similar reports for their earnings for 1952, and who will have paid the social security tax for each year. Social security reports on self-employment earnings are made on special forms and are sent to the Director of Internal Revenue at the time of filing Federal income tax returns.

Mr. Norman says that self-employed persons who have been in work that counts toward social security since 1950 now have insurance protection at least until mid-1955 from that work alone. If they reach 65 and retire before then they will be entitled to monthly old-age benefit payments; in case of death before mid-1955 their families can get monthly survivors insurance payments.

Many persons now self-employed had previously worked for wages in employment covered by social security. This work is credited, of course, toward being insured, and the credits may be added to

COFFEE BURNS BOY
Anthony Palmiero, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Palmiero of Meadville, was painfully burned Friday night when hot coffee spilled on him as he pulled a pot from the stove at his home. He suffered second and third degree burns on the back, neck and shoulders and was taken to Spencer Hospital.

ERIE APPEAL
Erie City Council started Monday to sit as a board of revision and appeals of property owners following new assessments in that city. Appeals have already been filed on properties assessed at $100,000,000, an estimated 28 per cent of the total city assessment. Many commercial and industrial property owners are among the appellants, including the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Hammermill Paper Co. Of the total of 3,400 appeals, 691 were filed by the estates of G. Daniel Baldwin and Isaac Baldwin.

SUIT INVOLVES BIG WELL
Judge W. Russell Carr of Fayette county, will hear testimony at Harrisburg February 14 in an involved case concerning ownership of an oil well that has produced millions of dollars worth of natural gas. Judge Abraham H. Lipetz of Clinton County requested the State Supreme Court to have the outside jurist sit for the case. John A. McGuire, Renovo, who brought in the well, is involved in cross suits with the Keta Gas and Oil Company, Bradford. These suits were interrupted last fall by the death of Judge Henry Hipple who was hearing the case.

KENDALL EARNINGS
The financial report for the Kendall Refining Co. of Bradford, for the fiscal year ending last Oct. 31, has just been mailed to stockholders. It shows consolidated net earnings were $1,106,794, equal to $2.78 per share of common stock. These earnings compared with $1,048,766, equal to $2.63 per share earned in the preceding year. The report shows that Kendall drilled 102 wells and that daily average net production was 1,735 barrels, an increase of 368 barrels per day over the previous year. Crude oil run to refinery stills averaged 4,286 barrels per day as compared with 4,072 the previous year.

TO SPEND $2 MILLION
The Pennsylvania Gas Co. Friday announced it will spend in excess of $2,000,000 in 1953 for improvement and expansion of service in the Erie area. Largest project in Erie is the relocation of the mixing plant, now in South Erie, to a location south of Grandview boulevard and Gore road and east of Old French road. Officials said this will mean considerable line construction. No estimate of the cost of the project was available as yet, officials stated. Other major items in the expansion program is the sinking of an underground storage section in McKean County, which will cost approximately $200,000.

APPEAL DISMISSED
Judge Herbert A. Mook last week in Crawford County Court dismissed the appeal of Mrs. Isabel Weindorf of Erie, who contested the will of the late Rev. James A. Higley of Athens Township. The court affirmed the settlement of the estate as probated. Mrs. Weindorf, mother and guardian of Mary Ann Higley, Erie, granddaughter of Rev. Higley, claimed that the minister's will naming his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Knickerbocker of Centerville, Route 3, was "procured by undue influence" and that the late minister was "not capable" of disposing of his estate at that time. Judge Mook said, in dismissing the appeal, that after "careful consideration of the entire testimony and attendant circumstances, we cannot honestly conclude that there is substantial dispute as to the testamentary capacity of the testator." The court saw no evidence of any undue influence. The personal property of the minister's estate was appraised at $1,383.98 and real estate at $5,500. The case had been tried twice in 1950 and 1951.

Aircraft Industry Group Now Ponders The Flying Robots

Washington (AP)—The Aircraft Industries Association, calling attention to "the fast-growing importance of guided missiles as an arm of this nation's defense," announced today it is setting up a special committee to deal with the flying robots.

Meanwhile, the Air Force spiked a rumor that the colorful aerial objects seen over Northern Japan recently were Russian guided missiles.

"Pure conjecture," said an Air Force spokesman. "We have nothing to indicate any such explanation."

The Air Force has earmarked an estimated $27 million dollars for its guided missiles program in the fiscal year starting July 1. This is five times the amount of obligations $97,442,980—for missiles in the fiscal year which ended last June 30.

Although detailed information on guided missiles is classified for security reasons, one leading missile manufacturer, J. H. Kindelberger, chairman of the board of North American Aviation, Inc., said recently the intercontinental missile is "just over the horizon."

Kindelberger said such a weapon "will be capable of accurately delivering to any point on the surface of the earth, in a few hours, a warhead carrying infinite destruction and, because of its speed and altitude, will be impossible to intercept."

The association committee will act on behalf of guided missile manufacturers on problems of research, engineering design, development, construction and testing, the association said.

Eligible for committee membership are those companies engaged in the design and manufacture of missiles or mal, missile components.

Government Picks Site to Build New Explosives Plant; Plans for Series of Atomic Weapons Tests

Washington (AP)—The government today announced a new series of atomic weapons tests and picked the site for a 29 million dollar plant to turn out "more or less conventional" explosives.

The tests will begin in March at the Yucca Flats in Nevada, where 20 previous atomic explosions have been touched off.

The Atomic Energy Commission said it will test "new and improved nuclear devices" at the proving grounds 65 miles from Las Vegas. The devices presumably will include atomic artillery shells.

Some mystery surrounds the function of the commission's newest plant, to be erected along the Spoon River in Southwestern Illinois.

The AEC announcement said it will be "a new explosives processing and assembly plant which will not manufacture radioactive material."

Later a commission spokesman said the plant would not even handle radioactive material—the prime ingredient of atomic weapons—but would assemble "more or less conventional explosives."

The spokesman declined to elaborate except (A) to say if there wasn't same connection between conventional explosives and atomic weapons the AEC would not be working with them and (B) to recall that the AEC had said previously it is working with conventional high explosives at its "Pan-Spor" plant near Amarillo, Tex.

Ground for the Illinois plant will be broken early in the spring.

RED WARNING IGNORED—A ROA soldier on patrol took the above picture in Communist territory in Korea. The sign lettered on an abandoned house reads, "Halt! Forward means death." The warning is signed "CPVF," the Chinese People's Volunteer Forces. The patrol ignored the warning pushing deeper into Red territory.

Nearly 10,000 acres of ground will be set aside for the plant.

It will be erected in the Illinois flat lands some 18 miles east of Macomb, about 55 miles southwest of Peoria and about 45 miles south of Galesburg.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the plant will be operated by a private contractor, not yet selected, but that hiring of operating personnel will not be started until the plant is nearly complete, probably in the middle of 1954.

Not more than 2,000 persons will be employed at the plant, the agency said.

RESOURCES MUST BE INCREASED

If the American standard of living is to resume the steady climb that was interrupted by depression and war, our resources - - - from which income is created - - - must be increased tremendously, an editorial appearing in all McGraw-Hill publications states.

During the past four years it has taken about $3.60 of national wealth to yield $1 of income after taxes. If, by 1960 the income of the average American is to be increased from about $1490, where it stands at present, to $2,000, $310 billion must be added to the national wealth. This is nearly three times as much as has been added to the nation's wealth since the end of World War II, seven years ago, the editorial, third in a series on U. S. prosperity, points out.

Since 1929 our national wealth has not been increasing as steadily as it did during earlier periods. In 1946 total U. S. national wealth was actually less than it was in 1929 and only in the last six years have any consistent additions been made.

When we divide the nation's wealth by the population, we find ourselves slightly worse off per person today than we were in 1929, in spite of the large additions to national wealth since 1946, according to the editorial, which cites depression and war as the two principal reasons for lack of progress.

Failure to raise our wealth per person means we have fewer resources with which to create income for each individual and that we have made no progress in the crucial task of assuring future increases in prosperity. To sustain prosperity over the long pull a nation must see that its wealth is not dissipated, for what is happening to our wealth now is a harbinger of what is going to happen to our prosperity later on.

MARCH OF DIMES IN KOREA

Dr. Robert S. Steen, minister of First Presbyterian church, has received from Korea a timely communication that ties in with the all-out effort being made this week by Warren Zonta Club in the interests of the 1953 March of Dimes Fund.

Written from Seoul by Tom Mowell, airman second class and son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Mowell, 403 Lincoln avenue, the letter says in part:

"Right now they are having a March of Dimes drive here in Korea and it is going over in a big way. They are having a marathon on the local armed forces radio station and, with every contribution you send in, you may request a number to be played. They started Saturday morning, the 17th, and are still going 24 hours a day.

"So far, our Seoul station has collected about $10,200 and money is still coming in. There is a strong competition between the Army, Marines, and Air Force to see which branch comes through the best. So far, the Air Force is leading.

"Some Marine outfit started the ball rolling by sending $2,100 and challenging the whole 5th Air Force to beat them—then one Air Force group came through with $3,300 and that really got things rolling.

To date, in all Korea, somewhere over $50,000 have been taken in. It's really something. Perhaps you have read about it in the papers at home."

"GRAND OLD MAN" AWARDS

Oil centers over the United States, including Warren and this area, are being asked to nominate candidates for the "Pioneer of Pioneers" and a "Grand Old Man" awards to be made at the May 14-23, 1953, International Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa, according to W. G. Skelly, president.

Here And There

One of the interesting passengers aboard the Morning Express from Washington to Warren last Wednesday night was our friend and columnist on the Erie Times Cliff Taylor. We hadn't had a chance to chat with him since he came over to help the Jaycees pick a Fourth of July Queen back in 1951, when we had the pleasure of a visit with Cliff and his wife while watching the young dancers up at the Youth Canteen. It was one of the pleasing events of the trip to run into Cliff and we hope it won't be so long again before we have an opportunity to enjoy his interesting personality.

We called on our old friend George Harris, superintendent of Western Union in Washington last Wednesday before preparing to board the train for home. George was still very busy taking care of the extra rush inspired by the inauguration. Incidentally we had an opportunity to pass the time of day with him in the press section in front of the Capitol Tuesday morning before the ceremonies started, but he was just too occupied with the business at hand to reminisce. From the manner in which the correspondents and special writers were handling out the copy it is safe to say that George was well prepared to see that it was rushed by Western Union to home town papers as fast as it was typed out.

For some reason or other we have a feeling that the Youngsville district, first to be affected by the Red Cross request for a greater number of donors, will come through when the Buffalo unit Bloodmobile visits that community tomorrow. The district, including Pittsfield, Garland, Sugar Grove and Lander and all intervening communities, is asked to donate at least 155 pints on this visit, which means there should be at least 200 donors to "show" during the hours from eleven in the morning until five in the afternoon. Prospective donors not already registered are requested to communicate with Mrs. Ross Davis, by calling Youngsville 2-2642, or just report in person when convenient.

Terse, Tart and Timely: Nearly 200 friends of the veteran State Police officer attended a testimonial dinner honoring Col. D. A. Gehr, held at the Franklin Elks club last Thursday on the occasion of the retirement of the popular officer who formerly was in charge of the Warren station. Inauguration medals are now available at $3 for a bronze one and $24 for a silver one, just write to Inaugural Committee, 1420 Pennsylvania avenue, N.W., Washington, D. C. . . . Incidentally Democrats interested can also obtain an official presidential Truman medal in bronze by sending $2.50 to the U. S. Mint in Philadelphia. . . . Out-of-Towners at Inaugural Spent Average of $100 Apiece
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Eisenhower-Nixon inauguration will go down in history as a $10 million to perhaps $50 million affair. That's if you include the personal expenses of all the people who came to see it.

The Inaugural Committee expected 500,000 visitors from out of town. If each of them spent $100 during the four days of festivities the total would come to $50 million.

A $100 personal budget would be about average for the four days to make the de luxe tour, with the best seats for everything and top-price rooms at the best hotels, cost over $200 a head.

It divided like this: Symphony, $12; jubilee festival, $12; parade seat near White House, $15; box seat at inaugural ball, $37.50; hotel room, $40; meals, $40; cabs, $10; tips, $8; miscellaneous sight-seeing and entertainment, $25.

COOPERATION between the incoming Eisenhower and outgoing Truman administrations for a smooth turnover of government probably reached its high point at the Commerce Department. Republican Secretary Sinclair Weeks came to town to confer with the Democratic ex-Secretary Charles Sawyer.

After talking government business for a while, Mr. Weeks mentioned that he'd have to find a place to live.

Mr. Sawyer said, well, why not take his apartment? It sounded like an idea, so they went out to the Westchester to look over the Sawyer digs. Mr. Weeks liked them, and said he'd take over the lease.

Then Mr. Weeks allowed as how he would have to get a maid. Mr. Sawyer said, well, why not hire his housekeeper-cook? Mr. Weeks liked her, too, and hired her on the spot.

THERE'S a quiet move on to make the former Vice President, Alben W. Barkley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Not immediately, perhaps, but sooner or later. There is no thought of trying to push the present chairman, Steve Mitchell, out of his job. But, again sooner or later, Chairman Mitchell is expected to ask voluntarily to go back to his private law practice.

The appointment of Barkley as his successor would make political sense. He is a close friend of Governor Stevenson and is in fact a distant cousin of the Democratic presidential candidate. Barkley certainly knows politics. He is acceptable to both northern and southern Democrats. Union labor political leaders would go for him now.

WITH Secretary of State John Foster Dulles scheduled to hop off for Europe soon, and talking about a trip around the world after that, the real job of reorganizing the State Department is going to fall on the new undersecretary, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith.

While General Smith's military record, his experience as ambassador to Moscow for three years and as head of Central Intelligence Agency are well known, most people are not familiar with his earlier diplomatic achievements.

1,946 New Oil and Gas Wells Planned For Pennsylvania During Present Year

Tulsa, Okla. — Oil and gas operators plan to drill 1,946 wells in Pennsylvania during 1953, compared with 1,884 wells completed in the state in 1952, the Oil and Gas Journal says in its annual review and forecast issue, dated Jan. 26.

The forecast is based on drilling schedules of oil companies and independent operators, and shows that the new wells scheduled for Pennsylvania this year will be divided into 14 wildcats, seeking new pools, and 1,932 development wells in known fields.

The actual performance record in Pennsylvania during 1952 is shown in the Journal's detailed survey as follows: A total of 1,884 wells were completed, of which 858 were successful in finding oil, 220 found natural gas, and the remaining 806 were dry or service wells. Wells drilled in the state last year had a total footage of 3,712,524 feet.

Production of crude oil in Pennsylvania totaled 11,136,000 barrels in 1952, an average of 30,426 barrels per day, the Journal reported. The state had 56,660 producing wells at the end of the year, so that its 1952 production averaged 0.5 barrels per well per day, compared with the national average of 13.5.

Proved reserves of crude oil in Pennsylvania increased 26,000,000 barrels in 1952, the Journal estimated after deducting the year's production. As of Jan. 1, 1953, the state had 122,000,000 barrels of proved recoverable crude oil, which is 0.4 per cent of the total for the United States.

For the nation as a whole, Oil and Gas Journal reports that the industry will drill 46,230 wells during 1953. This will be an all-time record, but is only 390 more than the 45,840 wells completed in 1952, so will be the smallest increase since 1946. Total footage of the wells scheduled for this year will be 190,285,000 feet, an increase of 3,033,000 feet over the total of 1952 drilling, showing a continued trend toward deeper wells.

The hunt for new oil will continue, for operators have scheduled 11,115 wildcat wells this year, an increase of 544 over 1952. Development wells in known oil pools will total 35,115, a decrease of 154.

In the hunt for new oil in 1952 the industry drilled 10,571 wildcat wells, which was 3 per cent over 1951 and represented 23.1 per cent of all wells completed. Of the total, 1,488 were successful in finding oil, 268 found gas, and 8,815 were abandoned as dry holes. This gave a wildcat success ratio of 16.6 per cent compared with the 1951 success ratio of 17.3 per cent.

Production of crude oil in the United States averaged 6,265,000 barrels per day in 1952, which was 127,000 barrels per day, or 2.1 per cent, higher than 1951. This was a new record output, but the rate of increase is small compared with the increase of 13.3 per cent from 1950 to 1951.

Chapter 33
MARIO raised his head, and his yellow eyes were sad and cold. "You knew," he said; "you always knew. You've always meddled in my life, and it hasn't mattered. You cooked well, you made me comfortable, and I didn't care. Now you've started in on Joe. You came to me in New York, deserted, penniless, desperate, and I've looked after you ever since, and that's what you're doing to me, until the police took her."

"Padrone, padrone, it is true. I owe you everything. I did not know..."

"You know. You've made mischief always, with any woman who came into my life, and now apparently with Joe's. He put up his hand and beckoned, as he beckoned when he was working on the set, and automatically Anthea stepped to his side. 'Pay her wages,' he said, 'up to date. Give her fifty pounds. See her papers are in order, and see she's out of this house before sunset. If she comes across my path again, I won't be responsible for my actions.'"

"Padrone, where shall I go?" "Go back where you came from... the village near Florence."

Bianca dropped on her knees before him, and began to weep. "But if your Joe and my Gina are married, then..." Mario rose, white-faced and terrible. "If that little devil ever comes into my house, I'll wring her neck as I should have done when she was a child!"

Noisily sobbing, Bianca took the money from Anthea, and went shuffling down the stairs and out of the door. Anthea watched her go down the drive... twenty years of Mario's life going with her. Anthea went slowly back to the terrace. Mario was sitting at the table, his head in his hands. She said in a small voice, "Just as well I didn't take the cross."

"Do not be unkind," He thumped the table. "It is not true. It is some mistake. He will come back. It is you whom he loves. I could see it only today in his eyes. A man cannot be like that to two women."

"Joe is young too."

"I'll still work for you, Mario," she faltered. "I wanted the job, and I like it. I promise I'll stay. And I think Joe will bring her back to London in time. It's going to be hard, then, Mario, for me... I mean hard to meet him and her. I'm glad I'll be home, anyway."

He took her hand, and said, "Anthea, I'll send these people away. You are too sad."

Anthea drew a deep breath. There was a real, tearing, physical pain in her breast, like a knife wound, and her head had begun to thump behind her eyes. Perhaps it was all the tears she was holding dammed up there. "No," she said, "we'll give our party. It is a little unfortunate that the star has been called away, and Joe has taken her to wherever it is she wants to go, but we'll give our party just the same."

Mario said with tears in his voice, "you wouldn't like to marry me, Anthea? I am old and very silly, but if you'd like to..."

Anthea smiled, the smile a little difficult, a little forced, but amusement touched her pain-darkened eyes. She patted his hand again, gently. "No. You've done enough marrying in your time, Papa Mario, but—thank you very much, all the same."

Chapter 34
JOE drove on as long as the light lasted, and they were both tired and hungry by nine o'clock. It was quite dark by the time they found a township large enough to possess a decent hotel and restaurant.

"Gina," he said, "I'm going into the bar. I'm going to have a nice stiff brandy, and I'm going to write some letters. And I don't want you at my elbow. I want, as they say, to be alone."

"Okay," said Gina pertly. "I'm going to write some letters myself."

He looked at her suspiciously. "Don't kid me. Who have you ever written to?"

"I am going to write to my mother, to Bianca, to tell her I'm safe."

"The surprise may kill her. I mean the surprise of you being considerate." Joe stalked away into the bar, ordered his brandy, got some stationery and wrote to Anthea and to Mario. He bought stamps from the barman, who told him that there was a tray for mail on the desk in the hall.

Joe put the letters into his pocket and went into the lounge. Gina was just finishing the envelope of her letter, writing with her tongue in the corner of her mouth, and making big, unformed letters like a child.

He rose and went out into the lounge, and Gina sat for a moment watching him with her heavy-lidded, sultry eyes. Then she too rose and went upstairs.

Joe took his letters to the tray, and he was about to drop them when he saw a letter on the top, turned face downward. It was blue, like the envelope Gina had been addressing. He said to himself, "Most unethical, but I wonder if the little devil did write to Bianca. I've never known her to write to her, except for money." He turned it over. The letter was addressed not to Bianca, but to Mr. Larry Donati at an address in Toulon.

JOE stared. The mists of wine and weariness cleared from his brain. His attractive, good-tempered mouth set in a thin, grim line. He picked up the letter, and went upstairs to the first floor to Gina's room. There was no answer, so he thrust the door open. It was dark, so he switched on the light. The room was quite empty and obviously unoccupied. There was a little light in his eyes as he closed the door, and walked quickly down the corridor to his own room. He opened the door sharply, and as he expected Gina was there. Her luggage was open on the stand, and she was sitting on the edge of the bed, her pretty bare feet dangling, while she brushed her long shimmering fair hair. She was dressed in a filmy nightdress and negligee of pale rose-colored chiffon, and she looked up and smiled at Joe as he stood in the doorway.

"Who let you in here?" asked Joe, and then he saw she was wearing a wedding ring on her left hand.

"Madame," said Gina, dimpling, "I told her we were just married, and that we had quarreled, and asked her to put my things in here to give us a chance to make up. She believed me."

"That all sounds very pleasant," he said, "and I suppose it was the whole reason for this trip. I'm beginning to see that I've been just a little dumb. There's just one thing I want to know."

"Of course, anything. Joe, I always speak the truth with you."

"Don't please, stretch it too far," protested Joe. His voice was so cold that Gina recoiled. He threw the blue envelope on the bed. "If you were so terrified of Mr. Larry Donati, why are you writing to him at Toulon? Are you suggesting he should follow us here, so that we can have more scenes, and he can pretend to shoot you again? Of perhaps you would like to make up a threesome?"

"You've read my letter," she said furiously, snatching it up. Joe struck his forehead. "Your moral indignation is fascinating! I haven't; it was a guess. And ap-

South Street PTA Making Progress on Wading Pool Plans

Mrs. Ralph Pasquino, president, was in charge of the January meeting of South Street PTA, held last night at the school, when Mrs. Eldo DeLong and Mrs. Gene Muscareo reported on progress of their project to build a wading pool at War Memorial Field.

They stated the firm of Nelson and Ellberg will do the excavating and Beyer Construction Company will prepare the forms necessary. Aid is now being solicited for water supply and actual completion of the work.

The meeting, opening with prayer by Mrs. C. Wayne Miller on the report by Mrs. Miller on the last Community PTA Council meeting, with Mrs. Knowlton amplifying her remarks on the Well Baby Clinic, stating anyone is permitted to bring babies for routine check-up but that specialized treatment is given only where financial need indicates.

The report on budget and finance was presented by Mr. Peters. Announcement was made of the Child Study Group meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Clark, 8 Russell street, at 7:30 p. m. February 2. Miss Erickson's third grade received the attendance award.

Mrs. Raymond Lowe introduced Miss Dorothy Lincoln and Nelson A. Johnson, who presented a very interesting discussion of the topic "How Are Our Children Taught?" The principal theme dealt with the idea that the teacher with understanding accepts the child as he is and endeavors to develop and equip him with the ability to properly take his part in a complex modern world.

After adjournment, refreshments were served by Mrs. A. J. Oriole and her committee.

Help at Home Is Needed By Most Working Wives

THE couple actually needs this working wife's income and yet she blames her job for her husband's dissatisfaction with their lives. She writes: "Even though I work a 40-hour week in an office because we really need the money, my husband is unreasonable enough to expect our home to be as well-run as the homes of our friends where the wife does nothing but keep house."

"He also thinks we should be able to entertain as often as other couples do."

Women have been able to sell men on the idea of a wife's holding down a job to increase the family income. But they haven't yet persuaded men that a working wife shouldn't be expected to compete with a stay-at-home wife in such things as perfect housekeeping and entertaining.

What then can the working wife do to keep her husband from being critical of her as a homemaker?

SHE SHOULD ADMIT SHE NEEDS ASSISTANCE

HER best bet is to lay the cards on the table and show him that she will have to have some kind of help at home. If hiring help is out of the question, then he will have to help her with home duties if their home is to be as well run as though she were a full-time homemaker.

If he chooses not to assume any responsibility around the house then he has no kick coming if things don't run as smoothly as he likes.

But here is one word of caution for the working wife. Don't make the mistake of blaming your job because you are not doing things you could manage to get done. Let it excuse you from what you actually can't do, but not for poor management or lack of interest in your home. You'll have to be scrupulously honest with yourself to make that distinction, but make it you must.

Some wives choose to work because they hate housekeeping. And you must be sure that you aren't one of them. For using a job as an excuse to duck a wife's homemaking responsibilities is one of the biggest mistakes a wife can make.

Local Y-Teens At Buffalo Sessions

Ten delegates from the local Y-Teen department represented Warren's High School Girls' Club at the district mid-winter conference held this year in the lovely new Buffalo YWCA. There were 140 delegates in attendance, representing Y-Teen clubs from 11 cities and towns in northwestern Pennsylvania and western New York.

From Warren were Mary Gagliardi, Mary Germonito, Josephine Hesley, Romaine Kondak, Mary Mitchell, Janet Miller, Faith Mong, Marilyn and Patricia Patrick, Sally Tome, and their advisors, Martha Sable and Jean Morse.

The conference, which began Friday afternoon, has as its theme the first line of the Y-Teen song, "If we can grow as simply as common blades of grass." The Very Rev. Philip F. McNary, DD, of St. Paul's Cathedral in Buffalo, was the Friday night speaker, basing his talk on the song, also, but changing the idea to "We can grow as simply as common blades of grass . . . if." He proceeded to outline a direction of growth by eliminating all the "ifs" in life except the all-important "If we have faith in God."

Saturday morning, several discussion workshops were offered and a variety of topics considered included Spiritual Values, Democracy in Club Meetings, Health Personalities, Good Citizenship, Program Planning, Vocations and Tolerance.

Saturday evening's banquet featured Mrs. Austin Kimball, past president of the National YWCA, who spoke on "The YWCA And What It Can Mean To You." She issued the challenge: "Once in a while, not every month, and not every year, Y-Teens can take a chance and stretch their souls," giving tolerance as an example.

The choir of entertainment offered Saturday evening was a college basketball game or a concert by the Heidelberg College Choir.

Sunday morning, the girls gathered in two groups to attend either Asbury Delaware Methodist church or St. Joseph's Old Cathedral.

Harry Flatt Having 87th Anniversary

Corydon—Harry Flatt, longtime Corydon resident, is looking forward to observance of his 87th birthday anniversary on Tuesday, February 3.

Born in Corydon, in the year 1866, he is a son of the late Morrison and Josephine Williams Flatt, pioneer settlers, and has been a lifelong resident of this village.

Employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for a long period of time, he turned, upon retirement, to a favorite hobby of gardening. Much of this activity is now curtailed, however, owing to his advanced years.

During the summer he resides at the old homestead in Corydon and in the winter months he makes his home with a daughter, Mrs. Anna Moore, in the South Valley section.

Old friends join in extending best wishes for a very happy birthday anniversary.

An unusually fine technicolor film accompanied the most lucid and informative talk on Cancer presented by Dr. H. M. Lewis last evening before members of the East Street PTA.

Stressing the vital importance of early detection and treatment and pointing out that ignorance and fear were contributing factors in the cancer mortality rate, Dr. Lewis outlined the aims of the American Cancer Society. Dr. John Larson also contributed several interesting facts regarding cancer in children.

The February meeting will feature a white elephant sale with William E. Rice as auctioneer.

Five From Warren County Are Awarded Penn State Degrees At Mid-Year Commencement

Five Warren County young people were among 506 graduates on whom The Pennsylvania State College conferred degrees today.

They were Miss Barbara L. Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Carlson of 1411 Madison avenue; Carl A. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Peterson of 112 North Irvine street; Ray J. Reed, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Reed, 19 Central avenue; Allen J. Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gibson of Sheffield; and John W. Bergstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bergstrom, R. D. 4, Sugar Grove.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the College, presided at the annual fall semester commencement exercises where 300 students received their bachelor degrees and 116 candidates were awarded advanced degrees. Thirty-four received doctorates.

The degrees conferred on the local students were: Miss Carlson, bachelor of science in education; Mr. Peterson, master of arts in English; Mr. Reed, bachelor of arts in commerce; Mr. Gibson, bachelor of arts in arts and letters; and Mr. Bergstrom, bachelor of science in agronomy.

Among the graduates were 30 students who completed the Reserve Officers Training Corps program and were presented reserve or regular commissions in the Army, Air Force, Navy or Marine Corps.

ALLEN J. GIBSON, above, son to Assemblyman and Mrs. Allen M. Gibson of 203 Cray avenue, Sheffield, was commissioned a second Lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force today upon his graduation from Pennsylvania State College. Lt. Gibson was one of 28 students who completed the Reserve Officers Training program and his commission was presented by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the college. Lt. Gibson expects to be called for active duty in the near future.

Barbershoppers' Concerts Are Great Success; Scout Council Program Aided by SPEBSQSA

Two enthused audiences, after attending the Nights of Harmony presented by the Barbershoppers in Warren High school auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings, not only praised the fine entertainment but also the co-operative spirit of the local group in sponsoring the affairs for the benefit of the Jamboree Committee of Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America.

In turn, Chairman James Blomquist and his Jamboree committee, deeply appreciative of all the effort expended, are unanimous in their praise of Plummer Collins, general chairman for the Barbershoppers, and Clifford Betts for untiring work in making the arrangements and carrying the events through to such success. They have announced that the program will again be presented, also for the benefit of the Scouts who will go to California for the Jamboree, in Sheffield High school auditorium on Saturday night of this week.

The abbreviated insignia of the Barbershoppers stood out on the backdrop as the curtain rose, with miniature barber poles at each end of the stage. LeRoy Schneck was perfect as the master of ceremonies as he introduced the local group and its director, Earl Erickson, as well as the various units which took part—the "Jolly Boys" from East Liverpool, Ohio; Miss Phoebe Jewell, as the Indian girl, who did a marvelous specialty number; the popular Chord Cadets of Warren; the "SPEB" Squaws from Cambridge Springs; the "Maestros," a quartet from Youngsville High school; and the "Dynachords," a quartet of Erie youngsters.

The chorus, composed of all members of the Warren Chapter, opened the program under direction of Mr. Erickson by singing the Warren Chapter theme song, a clever welcoming arrangement, and two other numbers, all done in fine style and with the crowd sure by now that a fine evening's entertainment was in store.

The Youngville quartet, composed of Don Kirk, Dick Nelson, Frank Danuski and Dave Dunkle, younger in years than most barbershop outfits, won high acclaim with its numbers, as did the Cambridge Springs Squaws, Alice Graves, JoAnn Hoyt, Ida May Right and Bette Gulick. The women, in sunbonnets and old-fashioned gowns, presented a contrasting picture as they appeared in front of the choral assembly.

Just before intermission, Mr. Schneck brought out the famous Jolly Boys from East Liverpool, who literally brought down the house. One of the members, his weight conservatively estimated at 460 pounds, proved to be a comedian as well as a singer, and the numbers were interspersed with good-natured raillery which made a big hit. Warren will not soon forget "Tiny" and this quartet.

The Jolly Boys, in addition to appearing at the VFW and the Elks' club while in Warren, went to the YMCA "Spot," after Saturday night's show, and ably entertained the almost 400 guests present there to celebrate the Chapter's second birthday.

Well-rehearsed and smooth was the Indian number by the Warren Chapter Chorus, to open the second half of the program, and Miss Jewell's dancing ability and personality provided just the touch needed to make this the outstanding event of the evening as she fell into line with the words of the song, "My Indian Maid."

Warren has a real claim on two members of the Dynachords of Erie, David and Dennis Driscoll being the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Driscoll, natives of Warren. The other schoolboys in this quartet were Vincent Casler and James Horne. Their numbers won fine applause and several encores.

Always popular wherever they appear, the Chord Cadets won their way again into the hearts of their listeners. In this group were Robert Dietsch, tenor; Earl Erickson, baritone; Boyd Sanden, lead; and James Cruickshank, bass. The Chord Cadets are as much a part of Warren as its surrounding hills.

A second appearance by the Jolly Boys and closing numbers by the Chorus climaxed two wonderful programs.

Explorer Scouts acted as usherers.

Wills, Business School in Playoff Game Thursday

Lettermen's Dinner to Attract Big Crowd This Year

CLEANERS AND ROCKETS WIN MONDAY TILTS

Wills Cleaners came within one point of the season's high game record when it trimmed the Style Shop, 86-50, last night, and finished out the first half of the MCA-City Basketball League in two-way first place deadlocked with Warren Business School. The schoolboys and Wills each completed the round with eight victories and two defeats, the former with 10 to Wills.

In the night cap the Rockets turned a tie with Youngville for fourth place by defeating Certified 62-46. The Rockets own the high game score for the season.

The playoff for the first half will be staged on the "Y" court next Thursday night, when the second half schedule officially opens. Wills and the Business School will meet at 8 o'clock in the important contest and post-one their regularly listed game still later in the season. The Style Shop and Rockets will clash at 7 o'clock.

In their stinging 36-point triumph last night the high scoring Wills boys racked up better than 100 points in three periods, starting with a 22-6 lead in the first quarter. By half time they had added a 44-18 spread and then wasted home from there.

Bill Massa turned in the fine performance for Wills by ripping in 25 points, enough for the evening's laurels. Bob Simpson helped out with 17 counters and Bob Reese and Carmen Colosimo racked up 13 and 12 respectively.

Jim Tridico and Stan Warren kept giving the Style Shop shots in the arm and tallied 17 and 15 marks in that order.

Coming in late in the first period, Jim Stevenson had one of his best night's for the Rockets and answered 22 points, Fran Masterson next with 11. Larry Anderson was the big gun for Certified with 15 and Jim Sigworth assisted with a similar 11 tallies.

The Rockets came from behind to tag onto a 10-9 first period advantage and then pulled away 27-5 by intermission. Each team found the hoop for 15 points in the third and then the winners added four more to the margin in the final eight minutes.

WARREN MUST DEFEAT OILERS HERE TONIGHT TO REMAIN AS CONTENDER IN DISTRICT TWO

If the Warren High Dragon passers have any intentions of staying in the Section Two conference race, it will have to be done tonight when Oil City High cagers invade Beaty Junior High court at 8:15. The prelim between the junior varsity teams starts at 7:00.

After the 74-53 trouncing the Blue and White suffered at Meadville last Friday, Oil City comes here a favorite to achieve its fourth league verdict. In their weakened encounter, Coach Hud Well's aggregation trampled all over Titusville, 81-65.

Oil City's other victories are over Franklin and Corry, while Warren has also beaten Corry, Titusville in an overtime and then the defeat to the defending Bulldogs.

In other circuit play tonight Meadville will be a heavy pick over Corry at Corry, and Franklin and Titusville tangle on the Nursery hardwood in a toss-up.

Hospital Five Wins Over Ellington in a Fast Game, 59 to 52

Outscoring a visiting Ellington five in both halves, the State Hospital cage team won a 59-52 decision on the State Hospital court last night.

In taking the victory the State quintet passed to a 31-25 advantage in the first two periods and were on the long end of 28-27 pointmaking the last half.

Vern Smith and Crane were the mainstays with 11 points tallied apiece, while Fitzpatrick took the night's honors for Ellington with 15.

Seton Hall Is Again Named America's Number One Team

New York (P)—Seton Hall, rolling along as the nation's only undefeated major college basketball team, was voted No. 1 team in the nation today for the second straight week.

The powerful Pirates, who made Memphis State victim No. 19 during the week, were voted tops by 44 of the 85 sportswriters and broadcasters in the poll.

They piled up 679 votes on the usual basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, etc. for a comfortable margin over second-place Indiana. The Hoosiers, runner-up for the second straight week, received 12 first-place votes and 595 points, while Washington held third place with a dozen firsts and 545 points.

ROWSWELL IS TO SPEAK ON FEBRUARY 4

Earl Abel, in charge of ticket sales for the annual lettermen's dinner of the Warren Sports Boosters Association, to take place at Marconi Outing club on February 4, revealed at Sunday's committee meeting that the advance sale is the greatest on record.

Harry F. Schmidt, chairman of the committee, heard reports from all his sub-chairmen, with plans now complete for the annual dinner. There will be dinner music, a quartet, a soloist, and a comedy act from Erie to entertain the guests before President W. E. Rice introduces the speaker of the evening, A. K. "Rosie" Rowsell, KDKA sportscaster.

NOTE TO PARENTS

There remain a limited number of tickets for the lettermen's dinner, and it is urged that parents of players procure these at once if they care to attend the event. The advance sale never has been as great.

With the older members of the Sports Boosters Association stepping aside this year to give the younger element a chance to arrange the annual dinner, interest is on the upswing and a mighty enjoyable evening is in store for those fortunate enough to have a ticket.

Bob Nelson Makes Wrestling Team at Lock Haven College

According to The Lock Haven Express newspaper, Warren's Bob Nelson is doing right by himself in the field of college wrestling these days. After his high school grappling and a couple years on his own, with some help from Homer Barr, Bob enrolled as a freshman at Lock Haven State Teachers College this school year and has earned a starting berth on the varsity.

Quotes from the newspaper articles state, "In the heavyweight bout Benson, unbeaten Warren freshman, surprised the over-tired crowd by pinning David Slaughter. Benson gave away at least 15 pounds and was on short end of a 3-1 count when he caught Slaughter off guard for a take down. With a body press and a half nelson Benson ended the bout in the second period with the crowd on its feet roaring for a 'pin.' This match was against Lincoln University.

After the Wilkes College match the Express said, "The only Wilkes veteran to gain a decision over a Bald Eagle grappler last season tasted defeat along with six other teammates. Last year Bob Javer decided Bob Craig, 9-1, in the 177-pound bout, but Saturday Javer dropped a 10-4 decision to Bob Benson, a promising freshman from Warren.

"The Benson-Javer bout provided the most action. Javer held a 4-3 lead as late as the second quarter, but Benson finished strong."

Another ex-Warren High matman, Clark Wright, has been winning Baldwin-Wallace College, but was decided in his last match, 6-3, by McClure of Kent State.

Wilt Claims 4-Minute Mile Is a Certainty

New York (P)—Fred Wilt says he's certain the four-minute mile will be run within the next year or two but he figures a European, and not Australia's John Landy, will be the one to do it.

"The four-minute mile isn't just a possibility, it's a certainty," the slender FBI agent, America's ace distance runner, said today. "Personally, I think the ultimate human speed for the distance is not four minutes but around 3:55."

Kentucky, in 1928, was the first state to adopt an official bird, choosing the cardinal.

all was confusion below that. Fordham jumped back up to seventh from 10th, moving Oklahoma A & M down a peg. Western Kentucky, which last night walloped Tampa; 117-58, took over the ninth position and De Paul, a 58-47 victor over Oklahoma A & M last week, became No. 10.

Out of the select circle were North Carolina State, which lost by 70-68 to North Carolina, and Kansas, 72-66 victim of Colorado. N. C. State is 12th, Kansas 14th.

AROUND THE WORLD

PASSIVE RESISTANCE—In his dashing Neapolitan costume, two-year-old Gustino de Meo claims a kiss from tiny Christine Knox, a fair lady in regal Coronation robes in London. This display of affection took place at the annual Children's Blue Bird party, and it appears that the young recipient of the kiss is all tensed up for that supreme moment.

ON THE ROPES—Size doesn't affect the light-footed approach of Negros, a lion in a circus in London, England. Under the direction of trainer Alexander, the big cat seems to walk a tightrope with the greatest of ease.

DEEP FREEZE—Mrs. R. L. Mondloh, of Minneapolis, Minn., faced a stiff problem when she found her husband's long underwear frozen solid on her wash line. In some parts of the state, the temperature dipped to a cold, cold 26 degrees below zero, and Mrs. Mondloh was fortunate to be able to take this off the line.

FATTENING IT UP—Jane Bazzoni, of The Bronx, N. Y., is getting her eight-month-old, long-haired Persian kitten ready for an appearance in a cat show in Manhattan. A tiny baby bottle holds more than enough to keep her pet happy while it's on exhibition, and the cat is perfectly willing to cooperate in seeking the contentment that comes from a full tummy.

DOWN TO EARTH—Jim Loeffler (29) of Loyola comes down hard after snaring a rebound during the game with St. John's at Madison Square Garden. Other players are not identified in the game which was won by St. John's, 75-56.

HIGH, DRY AND SAFE—After escaping death from a conveyor that accidentally picked him up and dropped him 30 feet into a coal silo, this little black dog was trapped for three days without food or water in Detroit, Mich. Humane Society worker Wilbert Hastings heard about the dog's plight, lowered a ladder and effected a most welcome rescue.

RECOVERY OF "FROZEN WOMAN"—After her convalescence in Chicago from being frozen stiff during 12-degree-below-zero weather last winter, Mrs. Dorothy Mae Stevens does some ironing. When found after night-long exposure, her body temperature had dropped to 64 degrees. Despite amputation of hands and feet, Mrs. Stevens does her own housework.

GOING UP—"GAPA" was sponsored by the U. S. Air Force as part of a research program of development for a new defense against possible bomber attack by an enemy. The first firings of the missile were made in 1946 at Wendover, Utah, and the weapon reached speeds of more than 1500 miles per hour. These photos have been released for the first time, with the approval of the Department of Defense.

ON HER WAY—Singing star Sarah Vaughn was all smiles as she waved good-bye in New York and sailed to Europe on the Liberte. Sarah is headed over there to make her debut in London and Paris night clubs and theaters, and let the folks across the Big Pond hear the singing style that made her so popular over here.

FILLING THEIR SPIRITUAL NEEDS—Deep in the mountainous country along the Korean battlefield, a group of Colombian troops has Confirmation service, conducted by Father (Captain) John J. Calter, of Brookline, Mass., assisted by an unidentified chaplain, right. The Colombians are assigned to the sector held by the U. S. 7th Division's 31st Regiment.

Civilian Conservation Corps Plantation Aid to Wildlife

Attention for the Times-Mirror by E. Stotz, Forest Ranger)

When the first Civilian Conservation Corps plantation in the United States was successfully established on the Allegheny National Forest no one realized, I feel, that the CCC planting crews were doing some of the first really effective wildlife management work on the Allegheny Forest.

In February 1950, the first Habitat Development Crews of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, started to make the Allegheny National Forest a better home for wildlife, under the terms of the cooperative agreement between the Pennsylvania Game Commission and the Allegheny National Forest.

Realizing the basic need for food and shelter by wildlife, probably the most significant measure taken by the Wildlife Habitat Crew on the Northern District of the Allegheny National Forest was to increase the food supply immediately adjacent to the dense pine plantations. Too often modern man fails to realize that proper shelter and proper food are just as essential for wildlife as for humans. Primitive man could get by for a time with a rough lean-to of boughs, and a half-filled belly when weather conditions were favorable, but under really adverse conditions, when Old Man Winter roared down from the North, he usually sought the shelter of a cave, and needed more food if he was to survive.

The nucleus for year round effective shelter was already established on the Allegheny National Forest when the first CCC grub hoes ripped off the square foot of dense sod for each tiny seedling they planted as they unknowingly helped set the stage for a food and cover program to be established nearly two decades later.

Having the shelter already established by the CCC program, Game Commission foreman Ronald Felton and his Wildlife Crew have, within the past two years clear-cut the dense hardwood pole stands immediately adjacent to the plantation edges in order to permit the natural development of food to go with the shelter already provided. The trees left to die as they fell have formed additional escape cover for small game and game birds, and extra food has grown in the sunny clear cut strips.

Once the unbalanced deer herd is adjusted to the carrying capacity of the range it will be possible to successfully plant food producing shrubs and other plants on the better soils on these clear cut strips around the plantation.

Thus, the plantations that were successfully established by the CCC youth, from all walks of life, have already served, and will continue to serve in ever increasing abundance, many purposes not the least of which is a more welcome home for wildlife.

Recognition Dinner Speaker Has 30 Years of Experience As a Scouter of Prominence

Almost 200 Scouters and their wives have made reservations to attend the annual recognition dinner of Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America, to take place in Beaty gym Thursday night, at which time Harry H. Hunter, Ashtabula county scout executive, will be the speaker.

Mr. Hunter, who has served youth through Scouting for over 30 years, will speak on "The Pushbutton Partnership." In 1920, Mr. Hunter became interested in Scouting and organized a troop in Louisville, Ky., and in 1922 he was asked to serve as director of camping and field scout executive for the new Council at Louisville. He moved to Youngstown, Ohio, in 1923, where he helped organize the first Council there. He served 13 years in Youngstown before moving to Harrisburg from which city he was transferred to the Council at Ashtabula.

Besides being a lay leader in the Methodist church, Mr. Hunter is a 32nd degree Mason and a member of Rotary.

Cub Pack 2, sponsored by the Johnson PTA, will put on the opening ceremony under Cubmaster Dee Drayer. Father Alfred Bauer, rector of St. Joseph's church, will give the invocation.

Officers Named At Meeting of Moriah Lutheran Church

Ludlow—The annual meeting at Moriah Lutheran church proved a huge success, with 100 persons gathering for a thirteen supper served under the chairmanship of Mrs. John G. Johnson and Mrs. Gustav Olson, assisted by a committee from the Ladies' Aid.

There were 63 of these casting votes for the following slate selected by the nominating committee and presented by C. H. Hanson:

The meeting was conducted by Pastor Hans Pearson, who gave a most interesting report. Carl Benson, Sunday school superintendent, also gave a splendid resume of the year. Encouraging reports were

Highway By-pass of Warren Is Remote, Rotarians Are Told By District Engineer G. D. Myers

Warren Rotarians greeted their Pennsylvania State Highway guests at Monday's luncheon meeting with a rendition of "We've Been Working On the Highway", and listened to an enlightening talk by Glenn D. Myers of Franklin, chief engineer for the seven counties in this area.

Warren Lowe, superintendent for Warren county, and his two assistants, George Joy and Gilbert Sanford, were guests, as was William E. Rice, president of Warren Borough Council, who was introduced by Rotary President Charles Frantz.

Mr. Myers told what is being done and what has been done recently in Warren county where the state has 419 miles of highway. In Mr. Myers' district there are 4,200 miles and 1,928 bridges.

He had little to say regarding the proposed Warren by-pass, except to remark that interest there seems to have been revived. Asked by Nat Drake, Chamber of Commerce secretary, to compare the Warren proposal with any other by-pass, Mr. Myers said the one at Oil City is the only similar experience, and that it seemed to cause no lessening of traffic on the original roads. He mentioned the proposed by-pass around Erie, said the 21 miles required would cost the state $1,000,000 per mile. Mr. Myers said "no money is in sight" for any Warren by-pass.

Mr. Myers said his department would have only 10 miles of dirt roads remaining in Warren county at the end of 1953, said the 1902 miles in all the state remaining in 1952 would be reduced this year to a few hundred miles. He compared construction costs as they have risen—$60,000 per mile for the road beyond Garland, $162,000 for the road to Clarendon, and between $250,000 and $300,000 for the road through Star Brick. Asphalt used to be four cents per gallon, now it is 16 cents. He said what was a $5,000,000 job now would cost $15,000,000.

Mr. Myers mentioned the various jobs done in Warren county the past year, including the Jackson Run improvement and said the proposed widening of Pennsylvania avenue, west, and the rebuilding of the Lander road are important jobs for the year to come. He said snow removal in Warren county should cost much less than the 1952 expenditure of $130,000.

Hope for re-enactment of the two-cent gasoline tax was expressed by the speaker, saying that without it "We'll have nothing to work on." He also said Pennsylvania's problem could be solved if the motor tax, of which the state now receives only 25 cents on the dollar, could be kept by the state.

Questioned by Manley Overturf regarding the splashing of pedestrians by cars on the Hickory street bridge, Mr. Myers promised action within a week.

made by the treasurer and auditors for all organizations and a special vote of thanks was given to out-going board members and to special donors. Among resolutions adopted was that pertaining to forwarding of the Augustana Seminary Appeal.

Let Reddy
do it!

Let's suppose you spend 2 hours each week lifting and carrying wet clothes, putting up a clothes line and pinning clothes to it, adjusting clothes props, taking down clothes, more carrying, sprinkling and waiting until they are ready to iron. That adds up to more than 100 hours each year, more than 12 full 8-hour days of just plain hard work.

It isn't necessary! You can dry the family wash each week in a matter of minutes, without work, in an automatic electric dryer. And what's more you can do it in any kind of weather, rain or shine, winter or summer!

Your wash is gently tumbled in a clean current of warm air until it is bone dry or damp dry, just right for ironing. You'll find clothes soft and fluffy, wrinkle-free, sweet smelling and much, much easier to iron.

Take twelve days of work out of your calendar and add twelve days of fun to it. Visit your dealer this very week and find out how easy it is to install and own an electric clothes dryer.
